Dear Parents,

For homework this week we are asking the children to think about our school value, Trust.

With this letter is the home-school resource for you to share with your children. We would also like the children to complete a home-school challenge which should be sent in to school next week.

The children can complete the home-school challenge set out in the resource, designing a boat, or they could choose from some of the options below:

- 1) Design you own trust symbol using craft materials. This could be a knot or something else!
- 2) Draw pictures that you think could represent Trust
- 3) Think about somebody you trust and draw a portrait
- 4) Complete some writing about trust e.g. a story, a comic strip, a poster
- 5) Think about Trust in your own way and show us your thoughts!

We will display this homework around the school to celebrate the children's reflections on our value.

Many thanks,
Claire McLaughlin
